Noted Church Folk Coming To Bethany

Annual Bible Conference Will Attract Hundreds To Sierra Madre

With many prominent missionary and church figures from far corners of the world bringing inspiring reports and Christian messages, the Seventeenth Annual Bible Conference will be held at Bethany Church, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 6 and 7, beginning at 10 a.m. each day.

Opening the conference which is built upon the general theme, "The Spirit Filled Life," Mrs. A. P. Uhlinger, who has spent many years in the Belgian Congo, will give her message, "The Love of Christ Restraineth Us"; Mrs. Harry Hill who has worked extensively in the Orient will speak on "Abounding in Hope by the Power of the Holy Ghost" at 11 o'clock.

After luncheon the conference will hear Mrs. Helen Frazee-Bower, nationally recognized poet, giving a message of inspiration, "Our Two Fold Victory." "The Person and Work of the Holy Spirit" will be discussed by Dr. James R. Graham, Jr., at 2 o'clock.

Speaker for the Tuesday evening meeting at 7:30 will be Rev. J. Vernon McGee, pastor of the Lincoln Avenue Presbyterian Church in Pasadena, who talks of "How Babies in Christ May Learn to Walk in Spirit."

Wednesday's meeting will open with Miss Natalie Romans. Second speaker will be Dr. John C. Page, member of the board of directors of Westmore College of Los Angeles.

"The Disposition of Christ" will be the topic of Miss Henrietta Mears at 1 p.m. Miss Mears is editor of the Gospel Light Press. Tom M. Olson, evangelist and writer will be the mid-afternoon lecturer, on "My Cup Runneth Over." Closing address will be given by Dr. Louis T. Talbot, pastor of the Church of the Open Door in Los Angeles. Soloist for both days will be Dr. Dwight L. Poundstone, who also appeared in this capacity at last year's conference.

Luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock. Everyone will be welcomed at all meetings.

Funds Needed For Decoration Of City's Cemetery

In an attempt to make the Sierra Madre cemetery presentable for Memorial Day services, the local American Legion post is sending out an appeal for funds, and assistance on the part of lot owners in clearing and beautifying the grounds.

Money raised by the Legion will be used insofar as possible, for work on the entire cemetery, and not alone for lots owned by those who contribute, as the walks, unused portion of the cemetery, and the uncared for graves, will all require attention.

As a collective community benefit the Legion is asking that all lot owners share the responsibility of this work, giving attention not only to their own lots, but also to adjacent ones. Those contributing to the fund should make checks payable to the Sierra Madre Post, American Legion, and mail them to Olsen's Shoe Store, 34 North Baldwin avenue.

Organization Of A Local Guard Unit Gets Under Way

Sierra Madre's participation in the California State Guard program was assured this week when several local residents declared themselves in favor of the plan by signing up for a local unit. Among the first group to return their applications for membership were H. E. Gabriel, Tom Schwartz, Art Embree and Courtney Miles.

Sierra Madre's unit of the Guard will be accorded support of the city, and will be granted reasonable use of city properties, as a motion to that effect was passed by the council Tuesday evening.

Assemblyman Will Talk On New Laws

Legislative matters of importance to every Californian will be discussed by Assemblyman Frederick F. Houser, at the next dinner meeting of the San Gabriel Valley Associated Chambers of Commerce which will be held at the Glendora Woman's clubhouse, Tuesday evening, May 6, at 6:30 o'clock.

Survey May Result In New System For Water Charges

An extensive survey of methods of levying water charges for multiple dwellings in small communities throughout the county is being conducted by William Schwartz, water superintendent, in an attempt to determine whether it is possible to work out a more equitable policy for Sierra Madre.

Residents of Canyon Park recently petitioned for a change in the present system through which a minimum charge is made for each occupied house on a lot and not through one central meter. Action on the petition has been withheld by the council pending a report of the findings of Schwartz' survey which will probably be given at the next council meeting, May 13.

Establishment Of First Youth Hostels Here Is Vine Topic

The possibility of Sierra Madre being chosen as the site for Southern California's first Youth Hostel will be discussed by Russell F. Jorgensen at a community supper meeting at the Wistaria Vine Sunday evening.

Arranged by Dr. Frederick Roman and Mrs. Ashton, the round table will be open to the public and the city will be represented by Councilman Thomas Schwartz, acting as proxy for Mayor William J. Schlitz.

Coming programs at the Vine will include the presentation in mid-May of the Jasha Gagna Symphony orchestra—an aggregation of Sierra Madre youthful talent organized and trained by Gagna, giving its first public performance at the Vine salon.

Lee Shippey Ready To Come Home

Friends of Lee Shippey will be glad to hear that he is recovering rapidly at the Good Samaritan Hospital from his recent operation and will probably return to his home here during the weekend. Henry Shippey, oldest son in the family, who is stationed at a U. S. Army, returned north Tuesday following a five-day leave which he spent here.

Rains Brings Tears To Trout Fishermen

Unstable April evidencing an almost diabolical sense of humor did her utmost this week to spoil the anticipated pleasure of local fishermen, by gleefully deluging the country with rain, setting a stage for the duck season when all sportsmen are thinking solely of trout.

However in spite of April and her final contrary fling the Sierra Madre Hardware Co. has been busy issuing fishing licenses galore to Sierra Madre optimists who are still planning to seek their favorite mountain fishing spots today, hoping to get at least one limit apiece.

The local contingent as it stands now will be composed of Fred G. Scanzo, Joe Sadler, Eugene Seyler, Marino Lorenzini, W. A. Evans, George Dally, Gordon McMillan, Fred Lewis, Tom Neale, Mr. and Mrs. Fred LaLone, Jr., Dr. John L. Woehler, Joe Swanson, Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, T. E. Dammeyer, Bob Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. Marino Osti, Henry Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert LaLone, Steve ePtsel, Mr. and Mrs. Pio Lorenzini, Billy Jenkins, Mrs. Lillian Morrison, Lee Hibbs, Colin Hill, Lloyd Welch, Mrs. Harold Spears, and Loe Cullum.

Harlan Ware To Talk On Hollywood At Arts Guild

Harlan Ware, radio and magazine author of Santa Anita Oaks who spent more than three years as one of the highly paid scenario writers of Hollywood, will be guest speaker at the May meeting of the Sierra Madre Arts Guild Friday evening.

Choosing as his subject "Hollywood's Fellow Travelers" the writer will discuss inside facts about the movie colony.

School Teacher Killed By Auto

Miss Rachel Hall, 74, retired Canadian school teacher killed instantly Sunday night in Pasadena when struck by a car while walking on Woodbury Road near El Molino avenue, was the sister of J. Andrew Hall of 611 West Grand View avenue, and well known to many Sierra Madreans, through a residence of several months here a few years ago.

Attitude Of Canada To U S Friendly

North Country's Internal Problems Told The Kiwanis Club

Speaking principally from the Canadian point of view, Dr. J. E. Wallace Stirling of the California Institute of Technology and member of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs gave Sierra Madre Kiwanis a new and comprehensive approach to Canada's internal problems, attitude toward the United States, and foreign policy when he spoke at the luncheon meeting Tuesday.

While the maintenance of peace between Canada and the United States has been hailed as one of the greatest achievements, it has actually been a "peace with friction" actuated by an intense anti-American sentiment rooted in the Revolutionary War, and the War of 1812-14, said the speaker.

Greatest internal disunity in Canada stems from her widely diversified schools of thought, he stated, giving in support of this assertion interesting data concerning her population. French Canadians who have retained their language, religion, system of education and civil laws and are predominately isolationist in thought, make up one third of Canada's total population of 12 million, he said, while Canadians of European extraction are principally German, Ukrainian and Polish.

Breaking down of the long standing antagonism of his country for the United States has come about largely through the 2 million Canadians who have taken up residence in this country, but return to Canada to visit, and to the millions of Americans who annually spend their vacations there.

Preceding Dr. Stirling's talk, greetings were read from several Canadian Kiwanis Clubs.

FEAST OF SAINT RITA WILL BE CELEBRATED HERE FROM MAY 17 TO 25

Preparations Made For Annual Event That Brings Hundreds To The City

By Perley Poore Sheehan

PREPARATIONS are again under way in Sierra Madre for the annual festival of St. Rita of Cascia—"the Saint of the Impossible," as she has come to be known by the millions of her devotees throughout the world. "The Saint of the Hopeless" is but another of the honorifics conferred upon her in similar vein. But she would also be recognized universally as St. Rita of the Rose. For of all the miracles attributed to this Umbrian nun that of the rose that bloomed for her nearly five centuries ago seems to be the one most fondly remembered. That miraculous rose today is still inspiration for one of the most effective rites of her annual festival, when there is a special service for the blessing of roses at her altar.

Although the Sierra Madre shrine of St. Rita was built less than twenty years ago, ever since its establishment Sierra Madre has become increasingly a place of importance to pilgrims throughout the Southwest. These pilgrims come singly or in groups to some extent rather steadily throughout the year—quite apart from the faithful of the local parish; some of them coming from other States or from below the Border. It is in the month of May, however, that the pilgrimage tide reaches its flood, when the devout come by the hundreds from both far and near.

For May 22—anniversary of Rita's death—is her Feast Day. This year the date falls on a Thursday. The Novena of prayers to the Saint will thus begin on May 17, which is the Saturday preceding. The Festival will continue through to the final Sunday of the octave, May 25, when Rev. Gigan McGauran, C.P., one of the missionary Fathers from the Sierra Madre monastery, Monte Oliva, will deliver the annual panegyric of the Saint and distribute roses. This will be at 2:30 in the afternoon and will be followed by devotions at St. Rita's altar. The devotions include the "Prayer of the Roses." "Behold, O Saint Rita, thy clients surround this altar bedecked with roses... a ceremony pleasing to thy pure heart..." As now so widely known and by request at the Rectory.

Defense Bond Go On Sale Here Today

United States Defense Savings Bonds and Postal Savings Stamps will be placed on sale at the post office this morning as part of the national effort to make America impregnable. Postmaster R. O. Caukin has announced that plans have been completed for this community, to do its full part in the opening of the savings program.

The new Defense Savings Bond is similar to the familiar "Baby Bond," of which more than five billion dollars worth have been bought by more than two and a half million Americans since 1935.

A Defense Bond may be purchased May 1, or thereafter, for $18.75. In ten years, this bond will be worth $25.00. This is an increase equal to an annual interest return of 2.9 percent, compounded semi-annually. Any time after 60 days from date of purchase the bond may be redeemed for cash, in accordance with a table of redemption values printed on the face of the bond.

To spread investments widely among all the people of America, a limit of $5,000 has been set on the amount to be bought by any one person in one year. The bonds are in denominations of $25, $50, $100, $500 and $1,000, and are to be sold at 75 percent of their maturity value, and maturing in 10 years.

For the smaller investor who wants to buy a Government Bond on an easy payment plan, the post office will have a new series of Postal Savings Stamps, in denominations from 10 cents to $5.

Purchase of Defense Bonds or Defense Savings stamps is hailed by Secretary Morgenthau, as one way by which every American can "safeguard his own money and his own future while helping the national defense."

Barbara Heasley Is New President Of Jr. Woman's Club

Barbara Heasley was chosen to succeed Gretta Patterson as president of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club Juniors at an election of officers last Thursday night. Helen Needeles was elected vice-president; June Eastwood, secretary; Arlene Olson, treasurer, and Glean Drury, corresponding secretary.

The Juniors, with the co-operation of Dr. John L. Woehler and Dr. J. Stadden Miller, who are donating their time, are now at work on their main philanthropy project of the year, that of supplying the materials necessary for the care of the teeth of 13 Sierra Madre school children chosen from the school records as being those most badly in need of care.

Wistaria Grill To Be Remodeled By New Owners

Mr. and Mrs. James Irving of Alhambra this week purchased the Wistaria Grill from Mrs. Florence Elam, who is planning to return to her former home in New Mexico within the next few weeks.

Mr. Irving, a professional baseball player for 14 years, formerly first baseman with the St. Louis Cardinals, and later with the International League, has been a part time resident of the San Gabriel Valley since 1936. During the racing season he has been associated with the mutual department of California race tracks. Before quitting baseball he managed ball clubs in Quebec for five years.

The Irvings plan to make extensive improvements to the grill before their formal opening which will be late this month. Eventually they plan to feature fine foods. Later they expect to build a home here.

Proposes To Spend Huge Sum Locally

Hinshaw Flood Control Bill In Congress Carries Big Appropriations

Congressman Carl Hinshaw has introduced a bill, H. R. 4348 in Congress, providing for upstream flood control in the Los Angeles River watershed. This bill authorizes an appropriation of approximately $11,400,000 to carry out the purposes of the Department of Agriculture's report on this watershed and much of the sum would be spent in the nearby foothills. The plan involves the construction of channel barriers in the mountain areas, fire protection improvements, road erosion control, restoration of denuded lands and improvement of certain farm lands to retard runoff and prevent erosion.

The whole program of upstream flood control in the Los Angeles River drainage area marks a new milestone in conservation. Mr. Hinshaw points out that this is the first program of its kind in the United States and the first to be undertaken under the provisions of the 1936 Flood Control Act. The program is a departure from the conventional flood control work such as has been developed by the War Department or by many states and local agencies throughout the country. Instead of dams and levees, the Department of Agriculture is relying upon the development of the natural cover and upon minor engineering works which are to stabilize small channels.

Mr. Hinshaw further points out that the upstream program will not in any way conflict with the downstream one. It is designed to make the downstream works more effective through reducing the rate at which the reservoir and debris basins fill up and through providing clear water instead of debris laden floods which are so difficult to confine within channels.

The fire protection plan is to be carried out on the National Forest by the Forest Service. However, the plan also calls for cooperation with the Los Angeles County Forestry Department through building of similar improvements on the privately owned lands outside of the National Forest. All of these improvements are proposed for construction on a 50-50 basis by the Federal Government and the County Forestry Department.

About $75,000 will be expended for improvement of the natural watershed. This includes the di-

Court Convinces Man Bailey Canyon Is Not A Dump

Willingness to make restitution for a misdemeanor which he committed last week by dumping rubbish in Bailey Canyon, won a suspended sentence of 15 of 7½ days in jail for Vincente Varella of 148 West Highland avenue when he appeared before Judge Thomas Neale in the city court Thursday morning.

Last week Varella, seeing that someone had previously dumped rubbish in the Canyon, also decided to dispose of trash there. When served with a warrant by Police Chief Gordon McMillan, he immediately went into the canyon and cleared away all refuse, making every effort to cooperate with the city in its effort to keep the canyon clean.

Season's Rainfall Is Now Over 41 Inches

Bowen will read papers on the early history of Sierra Madre, and selections will be made of the locations of original homes and buildings here, in order that markers may be put up by the society as soon as possible.

This meeting is a good opportunity for all newcomers to Sierra Madre and all others interested, to learn much of historical interest in connection with the town and the surrounding territory. Election of officers for the ensuing year will also take place.

Local Organizations To Support Unusual Program By Pupils

Public School Week, established 22 years ago to develop greater interest in the public school system and more intelligent cooperation with those in charged with administration of the public schools, is being observed throughout California this week.

Here in Sierra Madre, the PTA and the grammar school are sponsoring a May party and the annual open house to which all parents and friends of school children will be welcomed Friday evening. This is a genuine community affair, beginning at 6:30 with a barbecue supper to be served in the school cafeteria, with all the popular picnic foods available, as well as a special plate supper for those who prefer it.

Sierra Madre Masons, Kiwanians, members of the Chamber of Commerce, American Legion and Legion Auxiliary, Woman's Club and Woman's Club Juniors will be present to give their support to this community event.

This occasion has been chosen by the Legion Auxiliary for presentation of awards won by grammar school and St. Rita's students during the recent nation-wide Americanism contest. Awards will be made by Mrs. Val Miller, community service chairman of the Auxiliary, Miss Minnie Stinman, president, to Barbara Hippert, 8th grade student at St. Rita's School, who placed third for the district, and to Joan Maltby, and Joan Finch of the grammar school, who will read their essays.

At 7:30 the children will open their program which has been arranged by Miss Mary Pfaff with the assistance of all members of the faculty.

Setting the patriotic theme for the evening, the school directed by Hobart McMillan will swing into the spirit for March to launch a campaign and will also offer a diversified number.

A color guard composed of Scouts and Camp Fire girls then enter with the flag and conduct the salute, led by Samuel McElfresh.

Next on the program is the appearance of the 5th and 6th grade chorus in three songs under the direction of Miss Pfaff. Soloist will be Roscoe Shively, 12-year old 6th grade student, singing "Short'nin' Bread."

Track awards are to be made to the school's outstanding athletes by Gerald Smith, school superintendent. While no part of the program is being featured the appearance of four students from Mr. McElfresh's class, Josephine Mendoza, Rebecca Parra, Jenny Blum and Bill Guardia dancing the Jarabe, gives promise of particular interest. Josephine Mendoza will also present one solo dance, "La Spagnola."

Marileen Scoville, young Sierra Madrean who is rapidly gaining a reputation as an unusual marimba artist, will play two selections, while the 7th and 8th grade girls' glee club directed by Hobart McLaughlin will sing three songs.

Early American dances of unique interest have been arranged by 7A boys and girls, and the traditional May Pole dance will feature youngsters from Mrs. Adams 4th grade.

The orchestra which this year has made exceptional progress under the direction of Mr. McLaughlin, will appear for the first time in their gay red and gold boleros, which have been made by mothers from materials furnished by the PTA.

Group singing, led by Mr. McLaughlin will close the program, which will be followed by visiting in the classrooms.

ST. RITA'S CHURCH SCENE OF BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY

ST. RITA'S church was the scene of a very impressive and elaborate wedding Saturday night when Miss Barbara Hollingsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hollingsworth, and Lieutenant Henry B. Neutzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collins of Evanston, Ill., were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The church was exquisitely decorated in white gladioli, stock, calla lilies and sweet peas. The center aisle was roped off with twined asparagus fern and large bunches of white sweet peas were tied to the pews with bows of white satin. While the guests assembled, Miss Regina Gority, friend of the groom, played a number of selections on the pipe organ, among them being "Bells of St. Marys." William Gilholm, a friend of the bride's parents, rendered a lovely solo of Ave

Marla.

Attendants of the bride were gown in brocaded taffeta. Mrs. Max Trumpower of Los Angeles, wore chartruse and carried pale orchid gladioli. Mrs. James Nicholson's gown was lavender and her gladioli were cerise. Mrs. Carlo Giuntini in gold, carried bronze gladioli, and Mrs. Robert Baugh, whose dress was blue, carried lemon gladioli. Miss Mary Hollingsworth, sister of the bride, wore pink with a bouquet of deep rose gladioli. Susan Thayer, flower girl, was dressed in a long white embroidered organza over pink with a tiny hat of Cecil Brunner roses which corresponded to the natural flower hats of the bridesmaids in the respective shades of their bouquets.

Carrying a bouquet of white gladioli and orchids, the bride who entered the church on the arm of her father, was radiant in her bridal gown of white brocaded taffeta. Her long, flowing veil, which fell from a coronet of orange blossoms, was the same veil her mother wore at her wedding.

The groom was attended by his brother, Charles Collins, Jr. Ushers were George Smith, James Nicholson, Robert Baugh, Carlo Giuntini, and Milton and Robert Hollingsworth, brothers of the bride.

The young couple received congratulations in the vestibule of the church before going to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Giuntini for the reception which was attended by the entire wedding party. Mr. and Mrs. Hollingsworth, the bride's mother and father, were there to receive the guests. Mrs. Hollingsworth wore a soft gray crepe gown, small lavender flower hat and orchid corsage. Mrs. Charles W. Collins, mother of the groom, assisted in receiving and wore peacock blue lace, a large black picture hat and orchids. A Speed Merchant

On Wrigley Field, April 29-May 4, San Francisco Seals tangle with the Los Angeles Angels in the classic bout of the season for Californians. Rivalry flaming between the cities is carried to the diamond in this combat. Spearhead of the Golden Gaters attack may be this 20-year old youngster, Charlie Schanz. Sam Gibson, veteran Seals pitcher, says his ball carries tremendous speed and a good curve. Last year Schanz played with Yakima in the Western International League, won 18, lost 9.

As It Appears To me

TODAY we are passing on to you two words which have the utmost significance for us who rush through the first three days here at the News office, and for you, who have news for the paper — "Early Copy." Seeing that we get you news early insures a better spot for your particular story, also more space. Late copy, too often, finds a quick passage to the waste paper basket, or if it makes the paper, is of necessity cut to fit the available space. Late copy also means men working in the pressroom until 1 or 2 a.m., not an especially pleasant way to spend one night each week. So if you have club, church, personal, social, or general news for us, let us have it not later than noon Tuesday. We want to use every possible item of local interest but to do so we must have your copy EARLY.

This is an open letter to our editor and several townsmen, especially those who do not trust the discretion of the NEWS, expect utmost cooperation, while at the same time withholding as much information as possible, AND especially to those of you who believe that matters involving the expenditure of public funds should not be public information.

To the editor we advocate giving all of you some real cooperation, in fact we think it should be so complete that the front page some Thursday will bear only the mast and one centrally boxed sentence. "The NEWS, striving to cooperate with all of the residents of this city, is not publishing any information of general interest where there is a minority objection to our doing so."

And to the rest of you we whisper, oh so gently, that as yet we are not living amid Central European conditions — that matters which involve civic administration or the expenditure of public funds, are in truth, public information, and will continue to be as long as we pretend to live in a democracy. Also that the best way to insure the cooperation of any news writer is to let us have ALL the facts, and from there trust us to go forward in a manner insuring the greatest good to the greatest number of civilians. We don't think you would regret it.

One of our downtowners really voiced the truth today when he said to us, "You know, if you write impartially about the attitudes of both sides in a controversy, both sides are going to hate you; slant your story, and you'll only incur the hate of one group." Last week being as impartial as the facts would permit, we seem to have inspired some pretty intense feeling. Sorry, but as long as we work at this type-writing, we will have to write of things as they happen, and not as we or someone else wish they might have happened.

Written words are such strange things, because those of you who read, can never see the half humorous smile that goes with them. Just our way of saying that we are not really as seriously vexed as we may appear to be.

Among the good things about town: Seeing that Madeline and Emile are extending their counter at the newsstand... hearing Gordon McMillan talk (off the record) about earlier Sierra Madre school days, also makes for a gay hour, and when he and Tom Schwartz swap stories reminiscently, there is the foundation for a Sierra Madre epic.

To all villagers who don't know much about roses, but would like to. We are referring you to Marie Schiltz, bright eyes of the city call who, we believe, is well on the way to becoming our local rose authority. It might also be interesting to ask her about her greatest source of information. But, we are warning you, don't ever start an historical controversy with this young woman, unless you are on solid ground, because her facts are regimented and pigeonholed in such a way that you can't win.

To all of you who don't want your youngsters to grow up with an entirely warped idea about good dance music... Just now they are being exposed to some of the most atrocious recordings we have ever heard, at the Recreation Center. Dancing only a little, but having a fairly comprehensive knowledge of music, we must at this time say PLEASE to all of you who might spare one of your own recording or the next time buy one for the youngsters, when you are shopping.

Another Newspaper Woman To Live Here

Sierra Madre may soon become the home of another prominent newspaper personality, as Mrs. Rose Bearing, Nebraska newspaper woman, who recently visited J. G. Henson of Bella Vista Terrace, will probably return here to live.

For 35 years Mrs. Bearing edited and published a newspaper of Seward, Neb., and when selling her publication took an appreciable loss in order to assure the continuation of a staunch Republican policy which she had built up during that time. This winter she vacationed in Santa Monica, and is seriously considering Sierra Madre for her future home.

Fashion Show Draws Record Crowd To Woman's Club

Looking their loveliest in the latest spring apparel, members and guests of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, turned out in full force Wednesday for the dessert-bridge and fashion show at the clubhouse. While Laura Lentz, pianist, and her sister Lucille, violinist, set the musical background, models, wearing gowns from Becker's in Arcadia, paraded across the stage and down the ramp erected in the auditorium for the occasion.

Soft, cool prints, straw sailors, poke bonnets and formal gowns kept the admiring audience's attention while they enjoyed their desert and coffee. Immediately following the fashion show, door prizes were distributed and the afternoon was devoted to bridge.

LETTERS from Readers

SAVE THE CANYON

To the Editor
Sierra Madre News:
As an old resident of Sierra Madre, I feel I should like to express my grateful thanks to Mr. Perley Poore Sheehan for his effort to save Bailey Canyon from further desecration.

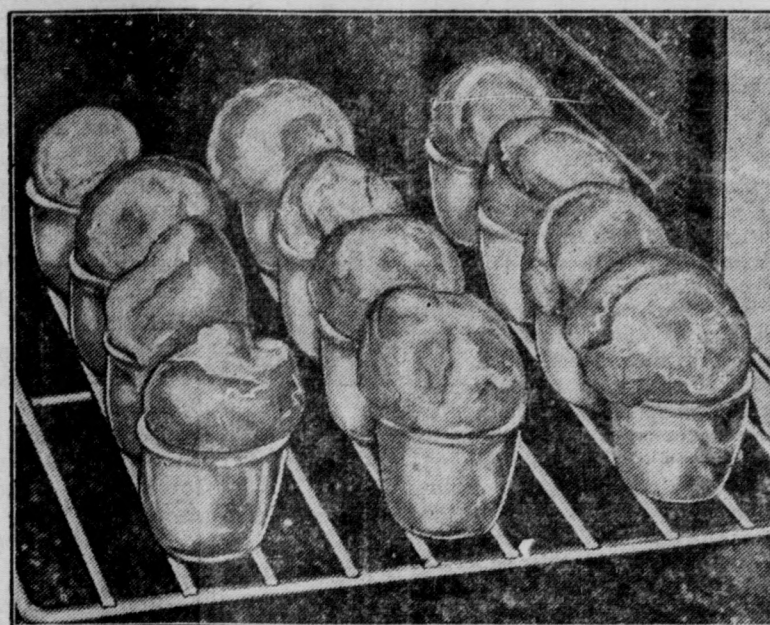

Surely this sanctuary of nature lovers and birds might be spared as a little oasis in this world chaos, when every unspoiled and quiet spot has become even more precious than ever.

I for one feel very appreciative of Mr. Sheehan's crusade for beauty and trust his worthy endeavor may find warm support and that Bailey Canyon will not only remain in peace, but that it may become the center of admiration to all who visit there.

Let us have a cleaning up campaign in Bailey Canyon that it may again become a place of beauty and "a joy for ever" in Sierra Madre.

Yours truly, "A Citizen."
Sierra Madre, April 24, 1941.

The Way to Perfect Popovers

A CHANGE of temperature midway in the 35-40 minute-baking period of popovers is one of the tricks in making the kind that rise high and are crisp and crusty. That's easy when they are baked in the oven of a modern gas range with its heat control which can be re-set from the first high temperature of 450 degrees Fahrenheit to the 350 degrees required for the last 15 to 20 minutes. Popovers bake nicely in individual glass baking cups, as illustrated above. Be sure to heat the well-buttered cups in the oven WHILE it is preheating, pour the batter into them quickly and return to the oven to bake.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of the Boys

"Toby," the police and firemen's little black dog mascot, was a most unwelcome visitor for a day or so last week. Until the police received the present new car, "Toby" was a regular passenger as a regular member of the police force in the police car. He has been a very sad dog since the new car has been in operation for he is banned. Not to be outdone, he slipped into the car in the wee small hours of the morning last week and the driver, Jim Heasley, did not know that he was in. (Not much) It was a fatal morning ride for "Toby." Roy Davis, also was a rider on this never to be forgotten morning. Riding along very peacefully and watching closely for fires, prowlers and the like, the boys and the dog were suddenly aroused by the appearance of a small animal that was sadly mistaken for a possum. Before the men could warn the dog, "Toby" had made a sudden lunge from the car and advanced toward the moving animal. He could not recognize the black tail with the white stripes and continued with his advance, alas, too close. Our much beloved little black friend was the loser in the attack and became the victim of the kind of kitties that spray instead of scratch. He immediately ran for the car and with one long leap landed in the rear seat. Being a chilly morning, the windows were most closed. In the thickness of the perfume of a skunk, Roy Davis gasped for breath as he struggled at the windows, and as the car pulled for the station, Davis' head was far out in the draft. "Toby" from that time on was a leper. He himself faced the wind for a breath of fresh air.

A practice drill last Friday took the pumps and trucks to the highest plugs we have in the mountains. A very good pressure was built by the big truck to the highest point, which will be a very advantageous point in case of a brush fire.

Food Prices and Profits

A Statement of Safeway Policy

THE forces of market disturbance, fear, and speculation, are at work. Prices for some basic commodities have already gone up. Increases in Safeway's retail prices on these items reflect the rise in wholesale cost, over which Safeway has no control.

It is a fundamental Safeway policy to earn only a small profit on each sale. Safeway pledges that during the period of war emergency it will not change this policy; and that in the future, as heretofore, it will make every effort through improved methods to reduce distribution cost—the difference between what the farmer gets and the consumer pays. You will always be able to buy from Safeway at the lowest prices available anywhere.

Consumers may assist materially in preventing unwarranted price increases by continuing their purchases on a normal scale. There are adequate supplies of food stuffs for every American. Hysterical buying which strips retail and wholesale stocks creates artificial scarcity, which pushes prices to abnormal levels.

Machinery exists within the government to control production, storage and release of commodities, imports, exports, quotas and prices—if it should become necessary to employ these methods to protect the economic welfare of the country.

Safeway further pledges complete cooperation with the governmental agencies and with farmer producers in all efforts to stabilize prices; discourage profiteering; and maintain orderly facilities for food distribution.

Jobs For Graduates

There will be approximately 1,150,000 young people receiving their high school diplomas this year. Many of them will be out the next day looking for jobs. Many won't know how to go about the serious business of job-hunting—nor even what kind of work they may be best suited for.

The California Department of Employment announces it is ready to help the young job-hunters find work, to provide authoritative advice on apprentice training, to give certain aptitude tests and to provide certain vocational training courses. Through its 81 local offices throughout the State, it is prepared to give young people access to the nation's job opportunities.

For boys and girls armed with high school diplomas, national defense has opened many doors to jobs and to job training. The Department reports it has been able to refer "completely inexperienced and untrained applicants who show aptitude" to various jobs in the aircraft industry, for example, as airplane cleaners, hacksaw machine operators, spray painters, parachute packers, etc. In the shipbuilding industry, openings have been found for helpers to angle press operators, shipbuilders, molders, ship fitters and welders.

In scores of other industries, defense preparations have opened new opportunities in the simpler, semi-skilled occupations in which people can be trained on the job.

If getting the right man in the right job is important in peace time, it is vital in time of emergency. Giving young people a good start—a chance to stand on their own feet and to do their part in the world of the work—is one of the nation's most important obligations.

WARNS OF HIGH TAXES

"About $750,000,000 of the $12,667,000,000 which the secretary of the treasury states is the aim of federal tax collections for next year must be paid by the people of California," California Taxpayers' association declared today. This is based on the fact that Californians pay at least 6 per cent of federal tax exactions and 6 per cent of $12,667,000,000 is about $750,000,000.

"This means that federal taxes alone will amount to about $108 apiece for each of the 6,907,387 persons in California when the 1940 census was taken—approximately $390 for the average family of 3 6-10 persons in the state," the association stated. "Added to this will be collections by the state government and the local governments which in 1939-40, the latest complete fiscal year, amounted to $92 per capita or about $330 per family."

Warning that unless radical revisions are made in the spending programs of the state government, the counties, cities, schools, and other special districts during the present budget season the tax burden on Californians next year would be about $200 per capita of $720 per family—compared with the burden of $137.74 per capita or about $500 per family in 1939-40—the Taxpayers' executive committee declared:

"The need for reductions in the state budget, now being considered by the Legislature, and for the defeat of special appropriations, is even more imperative today when the inevitable increases in federal tax exactions will more than double the federal tax burden on Californians. No patriotic American doubts the need for payment of national defense costs so far as possible out of current taxes. However, if the state budget is not cut to the bone and if city, county and school budgets are not held to a minimum, there will be unnecessary tax distress during the coming year."

THE SENSIBLE WAY

The conclusion of a pact by labor and management in the Pacific Coast shipbuilding industry has set an example for the nation.

Recognizing that a critical emergency exists, that the cause of national security demands unstinted, uninterrupted effort by all groups participating in defense work, both employers' and workers' representatives have set their seal of approval on this pact of peace and cooperation.

Several weeks of conferences in Pacific Coast port cities, while work went forward in the shipyards, were held in order to bring about this notable agreement. As completed, its provisions cover basic wages and hours, and assure adjustment of disputes without work stoppage.

If this can be achieved in Pacific Coast shipbuilding, it can be done in the East and in other industries as well. The West has pointed the way.

LOCK THE BARN NOW

In an effort to lock the barn door before the horse is stolen, the government has just established an office of price control.

This agency has been given the job of holding a tight check rein on runaway prices, of assuring a steady distribution of goods to 130 million consumers, and in other ways protecting family budgets from the rough jolts attending an all-out rearmament effort. But the main reason for price control at this time is to forestall the menace of inflation. What-ever the disadvantage of putting Uncle Sam in the driver's seat to curb and control the costs of the goods, it is probably a lesser evil than runaway inflation. When prices climb upward faster than wages, when production for defense reduces production of the consumer buys, and a scarcity of goods prevails, then the stage is set for inflation.

One way of forestalling this is price control. Another way is to discourage hoarding, and this applies to the consumer as well as to industry. The panicky purchaser who stocks up heavily with goods for the rainy day is only helping to bring about what he, and everyone else, wants to avoid—scarcity and high prices. Still another way of holding inflation in check is to keep distribution channels running at top efficiency to maintain a steady flow of goods to consumers. Fortunately, in this respect the country is far better prepared than in the last war.

The real cure for inflation is, of course, production of consumer goods—plenty of it. In this moment of the nation's history, that course is not possible. Defense first calls for defense production first!

EVERYBODY'S JOB

The tourist season shortly will be on again full tilt. In this community as well as the rest of the State, that means business—business we need, business we enjoy and business in which we have an inherent right to our share. But 47 other States also are bidding for the tourist trade, and spending nearly six million dollars this year to snare it.

What can the average citizen do to nurture and sustain the tourist crop?

Briefly, he can do his bit to make visitors like it here. He can act in a friendly manner when he's asked the usual monotonous tourist questions. He can spruce up his own yard and his business premises. He can put on a bright face even though it hurts. He can write letters to relatives and friends who might be persuaded to vacation here instead of Florida or Maine or Mexico. He can get pamphlets from the chamber of commerce and other agencies and send them out where he thinks they will do the most good.

Every day a traveler prolongs his stay here means dollars in the till of California business of every kind, dollars that bounce along into other channels wholly unrelated to direct tourist trade. It's good, legitimate home industry—a business in which every Californian is an active partner.

Boys Will Serve At Wilson Fathers And Sons Party

Postponed from April 25 to May 9, the Father and Son program of Woodrow Wilson Junior High School will feature many entertainers on a program in the Willard Auditorium, at 7:30 p.m. Lawrence Sutherland, boys' assistant principal, prophesies there will probably be 500 fathers and sons present. Members of the boys' food classes will serve refreshments.

The.... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

JUST to avoid any possibility of misunderstanding in this affair of the Rifle Range and Bailey Canyon. Let's make it clear. The main thing, right now, is to get rid of Hitler—of Hitler and all he stands for. To achieve that end there is no material sacrifice that can be considered too great. This is a war in which children, girls, old women and old men also are involved—are being maimed and slaughtered. In the presence of such sacrifice, to say nothing of the other havoc, what, indeed, does it matter whether or not we do convert the Canyon to the purposes of a rifle range? The answer, manifestly, is Nothing—less than Nothing—if the Rifle Range is of greater value than the Canyon in this supreme job of getting rid of Hitler—and of what Hitler stands for.

AS Somerset Maugham remarks in a recent article, it is always difficult for one past military age in wartime to advise those who must form the first lines of defense. Yet it seems to us that this time, more than ever before in the history of the world, the basic need is Morale, Morale!—a French word originally, but with an English definition; this one, for example, from our old Webster: "The moral condition, or the condition in other respects, so far as it is affected by, or dependent upon, moral considerations, such as zeal, spirit, hope, and confidence." To us it always seemed as if the Canyon were a dispensary of these things—zeal, spirit, hope, confidence. To stand up against the Blitz, it takes more than rifles—France had two million rifles. The Greeks, the Chinese, know! So may America—right away and always, so we hope.

WHILE we're about it, we might as well go all the way and say that it's perhaps not so good for American morale (dropping the italics because the word and thing should now be a part of us), all this talk about giving aid to the fighting democracies—"short of war!" If you don't agree with this, suppose you take a walk up into some quiet nook of Bailey Canyon and think it over. Generally admitted, now, that "they are fighting our war." Fighting for our America—this America that we love more than life or any other love. While we ourselves are fit to fight. Letting some other men defend our home. While we take in a movie or listen to the baseball scores. And we argue now against such cynical cynicism even if we do happen to be past military age.

BECAUSE, for one thing, we've been reading that article in the May Harper's called "The Incident in James Street." By John Strachey—incidentally, the same John Strachey a lot of good Americans were trying to keep away from America because they feared that his political opinions might contaminate us. Anyhow, he now is—or was, at the time he wrote this piece—an air-raid warden in Chelsea—a part of London where so many writers used to live. Green trees and grass. Quiet. Tolerance. Comfort. Modest homes. Some nut ideas, but always decent and with a smile. Now—now, all blown to hell and gone. By Hitler—and what Hitler means. Means to us as well as Chelsea. You read this article. And you'll understand their morale—not only of fighting troops, but of all the old men and girls and elderly housewives there—God rest them all!

ALMOST every speech we've listened to lately that was worth listening to stressed the spiritual, not the material, values of this life on earth. Man does not live by bread alone. Nor for bread alone! Said Churchill: "I feel encompassed by an exaltation of the spirit in the people which seems to lift mankind and its troubles above the level of material facts—indeed that joyous serenity we think belongs to a better world than this." And where was it he experienced this feeling? "...in those very places where the malice of the savage enemy has done its worst and where the ordeal of men, women and children have been most severe." There where "...I found their morale most high and splendid."

SO, just about, we believe we've said all we've had to say about Bailey Canyon and the Rifle Range. We have no slightest selfish interest in the Canyon. None, that is, except the infinitesimal self-interest that any other human molecule might have in the whole body of the Cosmos. When you've reached a certain age you're living pretty much in the spirit anyway. And it's just too bad if you're not. But the Canyon has so often conferred its gifts upon us when we needed

MARCH OF RIMES

By H. F. NOAKE

THE DINWOODY PLACE

The Dinwoody's own a palatial estate with fence of wrought iron and monogrammed gate; completely equipped with butler to main, yes servants enough to head a parade.

Fair flowers and shrubs from land near and far, a garage that contains every kind of a car—a tile swimming pool among other whims, just groaning with water in which no one swims. As happens so often this costly affair attracts idle lookers from most everywhere. Especially Sunday the traffic is dense for people must stop just to peek through the fence. With mouths hanging open and eyes bulging out, each wishing he owned it, there's nary a doubt. From sundry expressions it's easy to see they'd gladly trade places with rich Mr. D. Now supposing they swapped, here's what they would find, poor Dinwoody's deaf and practically blind. Those flowers in gardens so trim, afford not the slightest enjoyment for him. His wife, bless her soul, now forced to reduce must pass the fried partridge and drink orange juice. Patricia, their daughter, eloped and as yet hasn't reconciled dad to forgive or forget. Young Oswald, the son, cracked up in his plane but chances are even he may fly again. And now if the market should suffer a stroke, Mr. Dinwoody fears that he might wake up, broke, nor would it be odd if his funds disappear, it's happened elsewhere and it could happen here. Henceforth when fine mansions loom up as you ride, remember you can't judge a place from outside; and as for old Dinwoody, 'ere he is through, I'll bet he'd be glad to trade places with you.

Things To Watch For—A hot-weather sleeping bag to cool the sleeper without a suspicion of draft, via millions of tiny jets of refrigerated air; coffee is latest to join the ranks of the "quick-frozen" foods... super-quick analysis of your watch, on a machine some jewelers have that will magnify and count the ticks and draw a chart, in less than a minute, showing just how much your watch gains or loses per 24 hours, and indicate what's probably wrong with it... another idea is special match-book covers—your favorite photo, of wife, kiddie, clubhouse, home, or business place, reproduced in miniature on the match books... a small, motor-driven eraser, in its own case, like that of a fountain pen... a new super-sheer, lace-effect women's hosiery, called "Lolita lace" that is supposed to have solved the problem of making elastic to hold shape... one of the latest plastic gadgets is a pouring spoon which can be inserted into the top of a can of evaporated milk to make easy pouring... there is a new soap, in cube form—called Nalon. It's described as "soapless suds," and is designed especially for use in washing nylon and similar fabrics, but also works well on dishes and silverware... a companion-piece to the electric shaver is the electric toothbrush, soon to be introduced at $7.50.

Many western folk who have never been east are under the mistaken impression that it is so industrialized that it is fully populated. The fact is that Pennsylvania, for instance, is nearly 50 per cent forest. A recent report shows that of her 13,220,000 acres, state forests comprise 1,654,283 acres and the Federal government controls 446,240 acres. Farmers own 4,000,000 acres of the forest land and coal operators in the anthracite and bituminous fields 2,000,000 acres. Game refuges occupy 650,774 acres. A half million acres are devoted to recreational purposes such as hunting and fishing clubs, resorts, boy and girl scout camps and other outdoor organizations.

South of the border down in Latin America, coffee has been keeping people awake nights. Not that they've drunk too much, but that they and the rest of the world have been drinking too little. Disruption of world markets has stacked up such surpluses that coffee growers and traders have been suffering nightmares. But now a new day may be dawning, one capable of revolutionizing the industry and saving millions of pounds of coffee from being dumped into the Atlantic. Chemurgy, hurrying to the rescue, has created a way of transforming coffee beans into plastic material. One 132-lb. bag of coffee beans will make a sheet of plastic 40 feet square and one-half inch thick. It has many possible uses in flooring, roofing, wallboard and insulating. There is good news for coffee drinkers in the fact that any grade of coffee bean, even the poorest, serves equally well to make this plastic product. Hence, with a good market in plastic for inferior grade coffees, growers will have little inducement to offer anything but the very best grades for drinking—a happy solution which should end sleeplessness over coffee for all parties concerned.

Modernization and property improvement loans reported for insurance under Title 1 of the National Housing Act during the first quarter of this year increased 32 percent in number and 26 percent in amount over the same period of the record year of 1940. Federal Housing Administrator Abner H. Ferguson announced this week.

How's business? The best since 1929 as far as the Far West is concerned, according to those indefatigable analysts who check the pulse of the country's economic arteries. The Pacific Coast, normally a producer of less than 7 per cent of the nation's manufacturing output, today looms large in the industrial picture.

with more than 16 percent of all defense expenditures awarded to the states of the Pacific Coast. Expansion in the aircraft industries, already great, has still to reach its peak. New merchant shipbuilding orders continue to pour into West Coast yards, with the newest awards, totaling $100 million, bringing to $350 million the amount now on order. The enormous losses suffered by merchant shipping in the present war and the steady growth of civilian flying are two factors promising to keep the aircraft plants and shipyards active for years to come—an activity in which the West is certain to share fully.

Canada and the United States, both of them concentrating on an all-out defense drive, both of them engaged in supplying the sinews of war to Britain, are rapidly and of necessity drawing closer together. The Dominion of Canada, with a population of 11 million—one-thirtieth that of this country—is this year supporting expenditures of $3,500,000,000, or more than half her total national income, the bulk of it for defense needs. To strengthen Canada's war effort and ease her enormous burden, this country has three courses in view: To offer Canada aid under the Lend-Lease Act, to increase our purchases of Canadian war materials, or to finance the construction of American-owned plants in Canada. One, or all, these methods may be adopted. Because any attack upon Canada would involve this nation in war, because a defeat for Britain might install a hostile puppet regime on our northern boundary, the United States' self interest requires that we extend helping hands across the border to our partner in defense.

It was a gambling chance that Britain took in the Balkans. The triumph of the Nazi forces in Greece was by no means of decisive importance to England, but to the Greeks it was a crushing blow. They had fought long, stubbornly and successfully against vastly superior Italian forces. Making up in valor what they lacked in numbers and in equipment, the Greeks had thrust back the invading Italian armies into Albania and forced Il Duce's soldiers to sustain successive defeats as they retreated toward the Albanian seacoast. Several changes of army command, made by a desperate Mussolini, failed to stem the tide of defeats until the Nazis unleashed their attack and flung Italy the victory she was unable to win for herself. Britain has lost only another battle, but the Greeks have lost all that for which they fought, their freedom and their independence.

The new Russo-Japanese pact will be scrupulously observed by both parties until it suits the interest of each to declare it void. On the filed of European diplomacy, now littered with worthless papers which once were documents solemnly signed, a new example has come to light of how little faith "partners" place in their pacts. Despatches state that ever since Germany and Russia agreed on their common boundary in Poland last Fall, thousands of German workers have been building fortifications facing the Russian frontier. Non-aggression pacts? They like them, write them, and cheer them—but none of the parties believes them!

High School And Jr. College Costs Here Far Above Average

Current expenditures by the Pasadena high school and junior college district of which Sierra Madre is a part, averaged $183.61 for each of the 12,999 pupils in average daily attendance in the high school and junior college in 1939-40, an increase over the $169.90 per pupil spent for current purposes by the district in 1938-39, California Taxpayers' association stated this week, following its study of per pupil expenditures of the 175 larger high school districts in the State.

The $183.61 per pupil total current expenditure was higher than the medianor midpoint expenditure of $153.45 for other eight high school teaching grades 7 to 14 in the same size group, the association found. High School and junior college costs in Pasadena and Compton were grouped and compared with 8-year schools.

The district spent an average of $118.41 per pupil for teachers' salaries last year, compared with the median for similar districts of $107.32, the association stated. For other current expenditures, the district spent an average of $65.20, while the median expenditure for this purpose for similar districts was $43.31.

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

In a statement to his Nazi troops on the occasion of his 51st birthday, Hitler said a great deal more in a dozen words or so than he intended to when he opened his mouth.

"The German people," he roared, "looks upon its sons with pride as they fight with historic sacrifice of their lives for the security of coming German generations!"

The German people, one notes in Hitler's statement, are not proud of their sons as flesh and blood. The German people are proud of "its" sons—as the State's own martyrs—to "coming German generations."

As far as the Fatherland is concerned, der Fuehrer doesn't even promise there will be any young Germans left when his war is through. If his drive for power goes on much longer, prosecuted with the same ruthlessness, a huge portion of the youth of the rest of the world will not be here either, to enjoy whatever social order emerges from the final conflict.

Nobody has anything like an exact account of the total number of military and civilian casualties so far in the war. Everybody knows the death list is tremendous and horrible; that it is already far beyond the figure competent historians would reckon for a comparable initial period of any war.

The axis, of course, isn't reporting. Nor are England and her allies spreading much news of their losses, for their friends to weep over and their foes to use in computing the effectiveness of their weapons.

But all the energies of whole nations, the greatest forces in half the world, are directed toward the same objective—that of blotting out human lives—with tools gauged on a job-lot basis to do it with. Bombs that annihilate people by the hundreds and the thousands, fire bombs and shrapnel-loaded packages of death, dive bombers digging the graves of their own targets and lead-spitting marauders strafing civilian filled roads and streets. Big guns and big shells, pumping death at human beings every day and every hour for months on end. Death on land, in the air, on the sea and under it.

Any accurate lists of war victims could be nothing less than appalling. The effect of such wholesale killing or the world itself cannot be less than appalling, either. The fighting men of Germany will not be the only "martyrs" to Hitler fanaticism. The casualty lists of a score of involved countries will complete the world's most monumental blood sacrifice to the philosophy of dictatorship.

Fine Opportunity For Young Men

Annual competitive examination for the 75 appointees as cadets in the California Maritime Academy will be held in various cities of the state on June 28, according to an announcement by Dr. Walter F. Dexter, State Director of Education.

The Academy offers a full college course in three terms of 12 months each. Approximately four months of each year is spent on a foreign cruise. The three year course leads to a license as a merchant marine officer, a Bachelor of Science degree and a commission in the U. S. Naval Reserve. Of importance is the fact that every graduate can probably secure immediate employment as a merchant marine officer. The demand for graduates exceeds the supply, and the Academy is recognized as a prime source of officers for the merchant marine. Tuition is free but there is a cost of about $300 a year for food, uniforms, books and incidentals.

Candidates must have a high school education or its equivalent and be between the age of 17 and 25. A catalogue and an application blank may be secured by writing to the secretary, California Maritime Academy, 515 Van Ness avenue, San Francisco.

Side Glances and Soliloquies

by Libby Trimble

We thought when the racing season was over people wouldn't be so reluctant to say where they had been...and why. But they seem even more reluctant. Now, the answer to our query of "Any news today?" goes somewhat like this: "Well, I had a bridge party Saturday but I'd rather you didn't say anything about it because I'm in debt to so many people and I know someone will be hurt if it's made public." And while we wholeheartedly agree with those poor souls who try so hard to catch up, we still think it a shame that they don't.

Al Thomas reports an enjoyable ten-day vacation following months of hard work. He recently graduated a class of cadets, from Calero Academy at Ontario, where he is a flying instructor, shipped them to March Field, came home, took off his shoes and relaxed.

A conspicuous first in the literary field is "What's In The Sky," an astronomy book for children written by Mrs. Theodore Dunham, Jr., and published in March by the Oxford University Press. We sincerely wish her every success.

Mrs. John Colbert was in the office last week. Now it is easy to understand why she has such a nice family. Sierra Madre is full of lovely women with lovely children and since I can't very well designate the fathers of all these children as being lovely, without running into trouble, I will ignore the fathers completely, and wonder why the man who drives the Dainty Diddy Service truck always drives so fast.

The story of Fatima, as told by Mr. Bonebrake, is a story bound to wring the hardest heart. Poor, lovely young kitty, faced by such a cruel, misunderstanding world.

Senator Ingraham, banker, Don Juan and glamour boy de luxe, is suffering a severe case of deflated ego this week. A young matron entered the bank, leading her little son by the hand, hastily wrote a check and presented it to the Senator. "Mama," pleaded the young son, "lift me up." "No, no," scolded the young matron, "mama's busy." "Please Mama, I want to see the man." "Now dear," soothed mama, "There's nothing to see."

So runs the world. Stick out your chin and someone hits it. If you're tough enough the other fellow breaks his knuckles, at the same time he bruises your chin. You hope. We'll ask Slim Roberts who claims to be 190 pounds of glowing manhood.

Assemblyman, 48th District

While the economy bloc leaders are keenly on the alert to repel any frontal attack on the budget contemplated by administrative forces, they appear to be doing little to check a flanking movement of the opposition which may develop into a major engagement before this session is over. If the economy bloc does not promptly accept a reasonable compromise on the budget items now under consideration it is not unlikely that it will lose much of its popular support as the public is apparently in the mood to accept a balanced budget although it may not be pared down to the last penny.

It is becoming increasingly evident that the so-called economy bloc does not have the solidarity that it had two years ago, although it shows at times a numerical strength substantially in excess of what it could muster when its most effective work was accomplished. This increase in numerical strength is due largely to the fact that the winner attracts a certain following regardless of the cause sponsored, but when Governor Olson offered a balanced budget last January the trend of thought within the economy bloc split into two separate channels.

A majority of the economy bloc felt that the only way to carry out the will of the people was to make further reductions in estimated expenditures for the coming biennium regardless of the governor's recommendations while a minority accepted the balanced budget as a written acknowledgement of defeat in an effort on the part of the Olson administration to secure financial control of the State.

While most of the economy bloc members have been concentrating their efforts in trying to pare down budget items to an irreducible minimum others have been watching with keen interest an apparently administrative-sponsored move to secure social legislation which, if passed, would establish political control in the hands of the followers of Olson just as firmly as if the administration had captured the financial citadel of the State which it so vigorously attacked two years ago.

If the economy bloc is less successful this session than it was last it will not be due to its inability to stop wasteful spending but to lack of ability to check radical social legislation.

Places Open Now In Military Guard

Only voluntary civilian training organization in the United States which is authorized by Congress and having a uniform authorized by the War Department, the Military Order of Guards is now functioning in Pasadena, where Major Mervin E. Lowe was recently assigned command of that city's 16th Aero Squadron.

This week Major Lowe announced that there are openings in the air and ground school classes for men who are American citizens between the ages of 18 and 45. Classes are held in room 22C, 24C and 28C at PJC East Campus every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. All instructions are absolutely free.

The object of the M.O.G. is to train civilians in army conduct, drill, and procedure, in order to enable them to take their places in the armed forces of the United States in the event of a great National Emergency. A member enlists for a period of three years, but may resign at any time.

A NOVEL EXHIBIT

One of the most interesting and novel exhibits to appear recently in Southern California was "Flora, the Talking Cow," presented by the Fosselman Creamery at the recent Pasadena Industrial Show, according to Harold Goehagan, vice-president and treasurer of Market Basket Stores.

Hardly three feet in height, this mechanical bovine marvel breathed, switched her tail and chewed in complete contentment upon an imaginary cud. Through an intricate radio hook-up the illusion of life was further enhanced by giving the miniature cow a voice. Attended by comely Frances Schick, the display caused no end of comment, Mr. Goehagan reported.

Flora, the mechanical cow was the idea of Harold Orem, president of Fosselman Creamery, Inc., whose wide range of quality dairy products are featured in all Market Basket Stores.

British War Relief To Hold Newspaper Drive During May

Following a business meeting of the Sierra Madre Chapter of British War Relief, announcement has been made by Mrs. J. Andrew Hall, president, that a newspaper drive will be held by the chapter during May. The proceeds derived from the sale of papers will be devoted to purchasing materials from which children's clothes can be made.

The call is also out for any used clothing which may be renovated, as the chapter has been urged to send garments, even though not new, to the homeless people of Britain.

Youth Program Here Far Ahead Of Other Valley Towns

Sierra Madre has an active youth program, far superior to that of neighboring communities, William Burr and Clarence Hunt-singer learned recently when attending a luncheon meeting at the Santa Anita Golf Club, which was called to discuss the organization of a group of boys' clubs throughout the San Gabriel Valley.

This was the first in a series of inter-valley meetings to be conducted for the purpose of establishing a branch of the National Boys' Clubs of America with units in 21 San Gabriel Valley towns.

Letting The Public Know

If California growers and packers of fruits and vegetables were to cease operating a single season, an acute national shortage, severe enough to affect public health, would ensue. Next to the petroleum industry, the canning and preserving of food is the most important industry in California. California packers can 99 percent of all lemon juice, 98 percent of peaches, 97 percent of apricots, 93 percent of tomato sauce, 73 percent of asparagus, 72 percent of tomato paste, 64 percent of orange juice, 64 percent of figs—and 52 percent of all other canned fruit, including baby foods. Most of those products may be grown in quantity elsewhere. But years ago the California citrus growers launched the first systematic, nation-wide advertising campaign to popularize California fruits and increase consumption. Their persistent salesmanship built a great industry—benefiting growers, packers, distributors, advertising mediums, and the well being of the nation.

Because of advertising, plus superior products, California's name stands first in the world as a provider of superior fruits and vegetables. It's more than fine products—it's fine products plus advertising.

rect seeding of barren areas, the restoration of cover on recently burned land and the filling of blank spaces in the natural vegetation so as to provide a uniform cover. Only native species and plants will be used for this work with the exception of black mustard. Chapparral or bushy plants, and fire resistant plants are to be used to fill in the blank spaces.

About $3,000,000 is to be allocated for fire control purposes. This sum will be expended primarily for roads, trails, fire breaks and water developments. By virtue of these improvements it is anticipated that the average large fire attained in the Los Angeles Water shed will be reduced from 1,000 acres to only 40 acres.

The upstream program for flood control recommends $8,400,000 be expended by the Department of Agriculture directly. Of this sum, $1,850,000 is to be expended only on condition that State and local agencies cooperate on a 50-50 basis for carrying out measures on certain non-Federal lands.

Most of the proposed work is to be carried out on the mountain lands above the valley. These mountain lands are the most hazardous as they receive the heaviest rainfall and discharge the largest amount of water and debris in the valley.

Nearly $3,000,000 of the total expenditure is for mountain channel improvements, the principal feature of which is a series of masonry barriers. These barriers will prevent further downward cutting of the streams in their channels and help to stabilize the movement of debris. These barriers are a new development in the United States although they have been used in parts of Europe and Asia for a great many years.

Farm land improvement work in the valley lands will cost about $1,000,000. This farm land work will include the building of terraces, the installation of small channels through the agricultural areas, a few debris basins and a number of changes in the methods followed by the farmers and ranchers in handling their lands.

Nearly $750,000 is proposed for road improvement work including improvement drainage and stabilization of cuts and fills. Purpose of the plan recommended by the Department of Agriculture is to stabilize road banks with natural vegetation and to improve drainage. The work will be carried out in cooperation with the State and county on all roads except those which have been built by the Forest Service.

Hearings on the Hinshaw bill probably will be held sometime in May.

Garden Tours Will Include Visit To Prince's Estate

A garden designed by Prince Eric of Denmark, a nephew of King Haakon, for his princess, is one of the treats in store for all who go on the Arcadia Girl Scout Garden Tour, Saturday and Sunday afternoons, May 3 and 4, from 1:30 to 5 p.m.

Prince Eric renounced his claims to his throne to marry his choice and make his home on the beautiful estate at 2607 South Santa Anita drive, where Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert W. Smith have resided for the past seven years. At this home, one of the few authentic estate homes in Arcadia, can be seen rose gardens with blooms of all colors, and lovely statues sculptured by Prince Eric's wife.

In addition to this formal garden, Girl Scouts will usher spectators through the several beautiful gardens in the Santa Anita Oaks subdivision. The tour concludes with a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Gray, 201 Hacienda drive, where flower arrangements will be displayed throughout the house.

Proceeds from the tour will be used to send children to camp who otherwise would be unable to go.

To Honor Wilson Hi School Principal

Honoring Arthur M. Brown, retiring principal, the Woodrow Wilson Junior High School faculty is inviting to join in a banquet and party at the University Club, May 14, former associates of Mr. Brown in his 20 years of service in the Pasadena city schools. A program featuring faculty talent will reach a climax in a dramatization of the humorous highlights of the principal's career at Wilson.

Announcing his retirement from the principalship three months ago, Mr. Brown plans to teach English next year in the Pasadena Junior College.

CCC Camp Here One Of Those Retained

Among the 76 CCC companies which will be maintained in California for the present, as announced this week from Washington, D.C., is the Angeles Crest Camp where A. M. Udell, well known Sierra Madrean has been superintendent for several years.

The recent order from Washington calls for operation of 76 camps until June 30, and the program includes formation of six new camps in the state, re-establishment of 20 former summer work locations and the closing of 29 which are in winter work locations.

Angeles Crest CCC men are being trained for forest fire duty this summer, with 49 members of the group stationed at Chilao to afford protection in that area.

BROWNIE SCOUTS IN TWO ONE-ACT PLAYS

Two one-act dramas were presented by the Brownie Scouts Thursday in the garden of the William R. Smythe home on Manzanita, with Mrs. Smythe and Mrs. J. W. Worthington as co-hostesses. In the cast of the first play, "Hansel and Gretel," were Sylvia Smythe, Regina Andrews and Maryanna Haskins. The second, "Dolls and the Fairy," was presented by Carol Pierson, Regina Andrews and Patricia Marshall. Both plays were directed by Mrs. R. D. Andrews, Scout leader.

During the afternoon the group mounted wild flowers in preparation for their exhibits at the Sierra Madre Garden Club and the state convention of Garden Clubs in San Francisco. Mrs. Steve O'Donnell and Mrs. I. L. Clarich assisted with the activities.
